

American Revolution Poster

You may work by yourself or with one partner. If you work with a partner, put both names on one poster.

Design and draw a recruiting poster for the Continental Army in the Revolutionary War. A recruiting poster is designed to get people to join the armed forces.

Use any information that we have already covered, your textbook (chapter 6 and 7), and the World War II propaganda posters for inspiration.

Your poster will be leaflet size (8.5 x 11). White paper will be provided.

Use a combination of drawing and words, but rely heavily on images and limit text. If you are not a world class artist, you can still be neat and consider your final presentation.

Use at least 3 colors. Make it eye-catching!

You will have two class periods to work on the poster. If the poster cannot be finished in class, take it home and finish the poster. If two people are working together, decide which one will take it home for completion or schedule a time to meet together.

- poster is designed to be persuasive
- theme is provided in a concise manner
- poster is related to a specific idea, event, or issue from the Revolutionary War
